On Saturday 2nd July the ANC bombed rugby supporters leaving the Ellis Park Stadium in Johannesburg. Two people died and 35 were injured.

Seven days later, Neil Kinnock meets the leader of the ANC Oliver Tambo.

THATCHER & KINNOCK SUPPORT MARXIST DICTATORSHIPS!

by Steve Brady

THE YOUNG Black Marxist soldier aimed his Soviet RPG-7 rocket launcher and let fly, blasting an oil drum target 200 yards away. "Great shot" cried the watching White politician, a "fraternal Socialist visitor" to the one-party Marxist state in which the soldier was being trained.

The congratulations were echoed by the senior White officer training him, head of his country's Military Advisory and Training Team in Africa. His Advisory team has been training the host country's Marxist army for ten years, a decade in which that army has become dreaded for atrocities against anti-Communist and separatist dissidents within its borders.

Now let's put names to faces!

The young Black rocket trainee was a soldier of the FRELIMO Marxist dictatorship in Mozambique, now fighting for its life against Renamo anti-communist forces. The little demonstration of firepower took place at Nyanga, in the neighbouring Marxist dictatorship of Zimbabwe, once Rhodesia, where both Zimbabwean and Mozambican Communist troops are receiving "fraternal assistance and training".

So the White Brigadier training the Communists, and the visiting "fraternal socialist" must obviously have been Russian. Or perhaps East German? or even Bulgarian?

Well actually no. They were British. The politican was none other than Neil Kinnock, who believes himself to be leader of the Labour Party, and the White Brigadier training the Communists to kill was Brigadier John Baskervyle-Gregg of the British Army. He was sent, along with a British training mission which has been there since 1979, to help defend Marxism and Black one-party rule, by one Margaret Thatcher, who basks in the title of 'Iron Lady' of the anti-Communist struggle!

KINNOCK MEETS THE BOMBERS!

LABOUR EMBRACES TERRORISM

by Ian Anderson

NOT CONTENT WITH giving comfort to the IRA at home, Neil Kinnock, leader of the Labour Party and would-be Prime Minister, has travelled half way around the world to meet other terrorists.

Last month he completed an eleven day tour of Black states in Southern Africa meeting every kind of anti-White terrorist and murderer he could find.

While his own party was busy losing the Kensington by-election Mr Kinnock demonstrated his priorities by pledging, at a press conference in Botswana, that a future Labour Government would increase Britain's overseas aid by 250% to a staggering £3,000 million.

He further declared that he was "absolutely confident" that the British people would accept such an increase - no wonder Labour lost the by-election!

His tour included such well known dictatorships and one-party states as Botswana, Zambia and Mozambique. He said that he would only go to South Africa "when Black liberation has been secured".

"Necklacing is part and parcel of that process - that is cleansing the black areas of black informers"

Francis Meli. ANC Spokesman

When meeting with Oliver Tambo, President of the terrorist African National Congress, he said he believed "the use of violence by the ANC is understandable". He cynically described the bomb attacks on civilians by the ANC as "regrettable" - so all he could say about the killing of innocent women, the maiming of children, the mutilation of the elderly was "regrettable".

Oliver Tambo has also talked about the murder of civilians. "We are saying that South Africa must bleed and die . . . let the whole country experience this". Oliver Tambo is so bloodthirsty that many Blacks have turned against him. Chief Mangosuthu Buthelezi, leader of the South African's seven million Zulus has blamed the ANC for instigating battles between Blacks near Natal last year which resulted in 300 deaths.

Neil Kinnock also called for the release of Nelson Mandela the ex-Commander in Chief of the ANC's military wing. Mandela was found guilty in 1964 of planning a bombing campaign after the Police had found an arsenal of 210,000 hand grenades, 48,000 landmines and about 50 tons of explosives - sufficient to kill a quarter of a million people. The South African government refuses to release Mandela until he renounces violence.

Neil Kinnock and his Labour Party are the greatest recruitment agents the National Front could ever wish for. The British people deplore terrorism of any kind be it from the IRA or the ANC. The continued support by the Labour Party for these bombers and murderers will confirm to the British public that the only real alternative to Thatcher's divisive Capitalism is the National Front.

"What the people decide to use to eliminate those enemy elements is their decision, if they decide to use necklacing we support it"

Alfred Nzo, ANC Secretary.

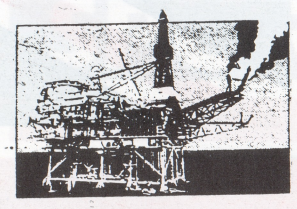
AMERICAN PARASITES PREY ON OIL VICTIMS FAMILIES



AMERICAN LEGAL parasites are swarming to Britain to prey on the families of the victims of the North Sea oil disaster.

The American attorneys are pestering the bereaved relatives of the Piper Alpha tragedy in the hope that they can make a financial killing by representing them.

President of the Law Society of Scotland, Professor Ross Harper, said "This is nothing short of ambulance chasing. I would warn the bereaved not to sign with the American attorneys. They do not have the same safeguards or normal ethical standards as Scottish lawyers have. Some of these people take take 40% of the damages".

The FLAG says, "Aren't such antics typical of American culture. Aren't such antics typical of the greed for financial gain promoted by capitalism in general".

MORE 'AMERICAN' ETHICS

THERE IS no need to be ashamed about lying. That is what is claimed by Chicago professor Arnold Goldberg.

He says "To be able to lie is an achievement - one of those abilities that sets humans apart from other species".

Other American reseachers regard a child's first lie as a positive milestone in mental growth.

STEEL BAND BEFORE TEXT BOOKS

BIRMINGHAM LABOUR Council has taken £5,000 from a fund set up to buy badly needed school books to give to a Caribbean school band.

The city has the lowest spending on school essentials of any council in the country yet the Labour loonies switched the funds to provide a steel band for black youngsters.

The Tory opposition was angry. Councillor Anne Underwood thought the money should have been used to renew the council's contribution towards running costs of a school teaching the Polish language and history to 100 children of Polish descent in the city.

A spokesman for Birmingham National Front said, "The money should have been used to buy school books for British schoolchildren to assist them in their education".

OBSCENE

THE CHAIRMAN of British Gas, Sir Dennis Rooke, has received a pay rise of £74,228.

The 68% boost takes his wages to £183,674 per annum.

Mr Iain Vallance, chief executive of British Telecom, has received a 47% increase taking his wages to £226,000 a year.

These are the latest in a series of massive pay rises for the heads of nationalised industries which have been privatised.

Privatisation, the Tory policy of selling off Britain's assets, means higher costs to the British public, a worse service to the British public and pay rises of obscene amounts to the fat cats in charge.

BRITAIN'S SITTING ON A TIME BOMB OF RACIAL VIOLENCE

● The common scene during a British summer. Police under attack from disgruntled coloured immigrants.

BRITAIN IS sitting on a time bomb of racial violence. The National Front has said so since the very day it was formed back in February 1967. Now, at last, the Tory Government in office in July 1988 has acknowledged that fact.

In a secret Cabinet minute to the Prime Minister, Home Secretary, Douglas Hurd, has warned Mrs Thatcher to expect a 'hot summer' of Broadwater Farm style riots in London, Birmingham and Bristol.

According to the report the flashpoint areas are:

■ Birmingham, particularly the area of Sparkbrook, where Police fear recent clashes between Sikhs and Hindus over events in India could erupt into full-scale confrontation.

■ St Paul's, Bristol, where tension has been mounting between Afro-Caribbeans and Asians.

■ North Peckham, in south London, between white youths and Afro-Caribbeans and where huge council estates are almost 'no-go areas' for the police.

■ Southall, west London where Moslems and Sikhs have been involved in disorders.

A meeting of Chief Constables has warned the Government about their growing anxiety about violent clashes between Sikhs, Hindus, Asians and Afro-Caribbeans.

Michael Day, Chairman of the Commission for Racial Equality blames the British people for the potential violent situation because of 'the deep-rooted and widespread racial discrimination by white people'.

The National Front blames British Governments of the last 30 years for allowing the settlement in Britain of millions of coloured immigrants without ever asking the permission of the British people.

A National Front Government would solve the nightmare of racial violence by stopping coloured immigration and returning all coloured immigrants at present living in Britain to their land of ethnic origin.

WE MUST NOT WASH OUR HANDS OF BRITAIN'S WATER

THE CONSERVATIVE government has decided to turn our water authorities into private companies to be bought and sold and which will be required to produce regular financial profits. The government stand to make £7,000 million out of the sale.

But what does the average British family get out of this - there is little doubt that the water charges will rise and that everyone will have to install water meters; and because the companies will have to pursue profits to keep their shareholders happy there will be the inevitable pressure to lower standards.

Already some of Britain's smaller water companies are privately owned and it is interesting to see that foreign firms, predominantly French, are rapidly moving to snap up these companies.

When the main water authorities are privatised we run the risk of ending up by our water being supplied by firms run in Paris or New York.

It makes no sense to sell off these authorities which perform a valuable public service. The result will be an army of meter readers, no improvement in quality of service and an increase in costs.

The only people who will benefit will be the City of London merchant banks who will charge exorbitant fees for handling the sale, and foreign firms who will snap up these companies.

The National Front says that Britain's water supply must remain in British hands and that service to the people and quality of the product is more important than profit.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

A SENIOR Conservative has been reported to the Commission for Racial Equality for voicing an opinion held by the vast majority of British people.

Sir John Farr, MP for Harborough told one of his constituents who had sought his help in bringing his Indian bride to this country that "You could most speedily be united with your wife by going to join her in India".

Spot on Sir John!

S.A.S NO NEED TO ATTEND INQUIRY

● The British strike force examines the bodies of the IRA terrorists.

UNDER NO circumstances should the SAS men who shot dead three IRA terrorists in Gibralter have to return to give evidence at an inquiry.

There shouldn't even be an inquiry. The IRA likes to talk of its war against Britain, their Army Councils, their active service units. Well, one of our active service units wiped out one of theirs and that should be the end of the matter.

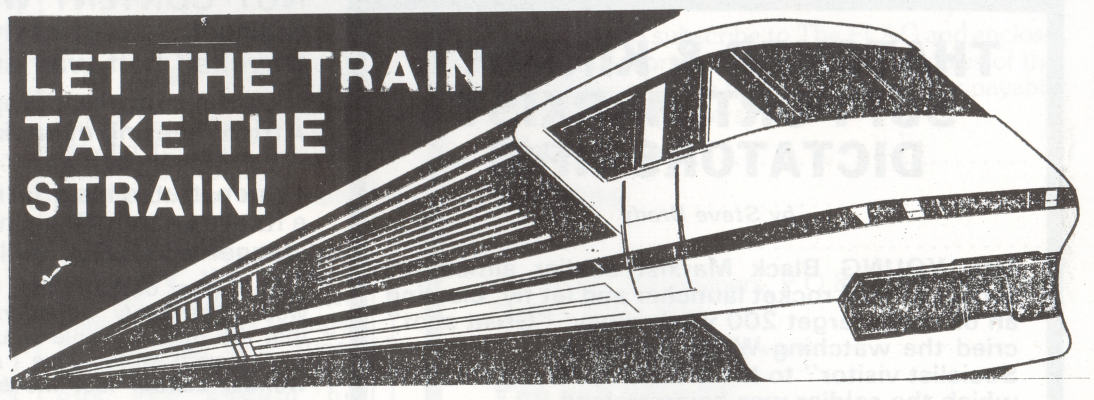
BLOODY DISGRACE!

THE METROPOLITAN Police have coughed up £75,000 for the family of Blair Peach, the New Zealand teacher who died while trying to stop an NF election meeting from taking place in 1979.

Peach was a Labour Party thug, who believed that a political party whose views differed from his own should have no right to express them. He went to the NF meeting in Southall with the sole purpose of breaking British law by trying to stop that meeting taking place. While perpetrating that illegal act he was hit on the head with a police truncheon and died.

His family should get absolutely nothing, in fact they should be deported back to where they came from . . . . taking with them the exhumed body of Peach.

LET THE TRAIN TAKE THE STRAIN!



TRAFFIC ON Britain's roads has doubled in the last ten years and will increase by a third in the next 10 years.

This volume of traffic is causing major problems on Britain's roads as the estimate of cars that would use Britain's roads were vastly underestimated when those roads were built.

The Department of Transport says that the British motorist is grinding to a halt and that drivers can expect to add 30 minutes to the time a journey would have taken ten years ago and an hour for longer journeys. "Motorists must accept that journeys will not get quicker. If anything, they'll get worse".

To relieve the pressure on the roads travellers should be encouraged to travel by rail. For the first time British Rail has shown a profit this year. This profit should be ploughed back immediately into the industry to increase the number of trains running. Existing rail tracks should be updated and all tracks should see electrification.

Rail travel should be subsidised to a massive extent. Commuters should be given such attractive season ticket deals that there would never ever be a question of them taking their car to work.

All freight should be carried by rail. No juggernaut should be seen on a British road, while investigations should be made into the real possibility of opening up Britains waterways as another vehicle for moving freight.

Let alone the congestion on the roads, for the sake of our environment, for the sake of energy conservation, for the sake of limiting pollution and for the sake of the thousands of people killed on Britain's roads every year, common sense says 'Let the train take the strain!'.

FRONT SECURE IN CUMBRIA OUTPOST

THE FAR-flung English outpost of Workington saw a National Front paper sale and meeting on Saturday 16th July.

The morning sale in the town centre was followed by a meeting in a nearby hotel. Twenty local members heard Workington Organiser Kevin Wilshaw outline the Party's expansion plans in Cumbria. After which NF National Directorate member and FLAG Contributing Editor, Steve Brady expounded the NF's fundamental purpose - racial survival.

● Local Organiser, Kevin Wilshaw.

A substantial collection was taken and the whole of the proceedings was videoed by a local member.

Ably led by Kevin Wilshaw, veteran local nationalist Vic Connett and the enthusiastic Roger Moore, Workington NF are set securely to spread the NF message throughout Cumbria.

NF 'WELCOMES' ANC SUPPORTERS!

ON JUNE 30th Rochdale National Front demonstrated against their local council for allowing Rochdale Town Hall to be used as a venue for a meeting in support of the African National Congress, the black terrorist group responsible for the bombing last month of a crowd leaving a South African Rugby match.

As the ANC supporters marched through Rochadale and arrived at the Town Hall they were met by the NF picket holding aloft a 'Smash Terrorism' banner.

Rochdale NF Organiser, Steve Smith, told the Rochdale Observer "About 35 of our members turned out because we were appalled that this march should be allowed to pass through Rochdale otherwise unopposed. These supporters of terrorism were invited to pass through our streets unhindered. We strongly object to the behaviour of the ANC in South Africa".

SPREADING THE WORD!

Selling papers is the best way to get the NF's message over to the public. Is your branch holding regular paper sales?

'Drugs Kill' Message!

● West Midlands NF members at Warwick Market

NATIONAL FRONT activists from the West Midlands took the NF's Drugs Kill message to the market town of Warwick on Saturday 2nd July as part of their summer recruitment campaign.

As well as holding a papersale in the centre of the Saturday morning market, NF members distributed more than 500 leaflets to the people of Warwick who were very curious as to what the NF had to say on the subject.

The West Midlands Summer Campaign moves to Stourbridge next month, with other Black Country towns lined up for September.

UNION CONDEMNS ATTACK ON PAUL NASH

THE ATTACK on Paul Nash, the National Front civil servant who was set upon as he left work last month (see last month's FLAG), has at least received some compensation from paying his CPSA unions dues for the last ten years!

The Union, who are trying to expel Paul, at least had the decency to stand by him after this latest vicious attack.

A spokesman from Tottenham CPSA condemned the attack on Paul 'without reservation' and described the incident as 'most unfortunate'.

The Union's campaign to expel Paul is also losing its impetus and a disappointed CPSA Regional Secretary, Steven Green, admitted that it would be a very long process which would go as far as the national conference.

Labour Panic as Front Contest Election.

AS WE go to press the Hemel Hempstead Branch of the National Front are contesting a council election for Dacorum Borough Council in Chaulden Ward.

As the nominations were announced the inclusion of NF candidate John McAuley brought a hysterical response from Labour candidate, Ian Laidlaw-Dickson.

He told the Hemel Hempstead Herald , "The National Front are scum of the earth. I find it bizarre that they should want to fight this election in Chaulden Ward".

Joining in the attack on the NF was outgoing Labour councillor Paula Dorans, "I despise the NF and everything they stand for!".

NF Candidate John McAuley told the local paper he was surprised at these attacks from the Labour Party, but he didn't hit back. "I not going to stoop so low" he said, "Issues are the key to the NF campaign not hysterical attacks".

Voters went to the polls in Chaulden Ward on Thursday 28th July.

FROM TINY ACORNS GROW . . .

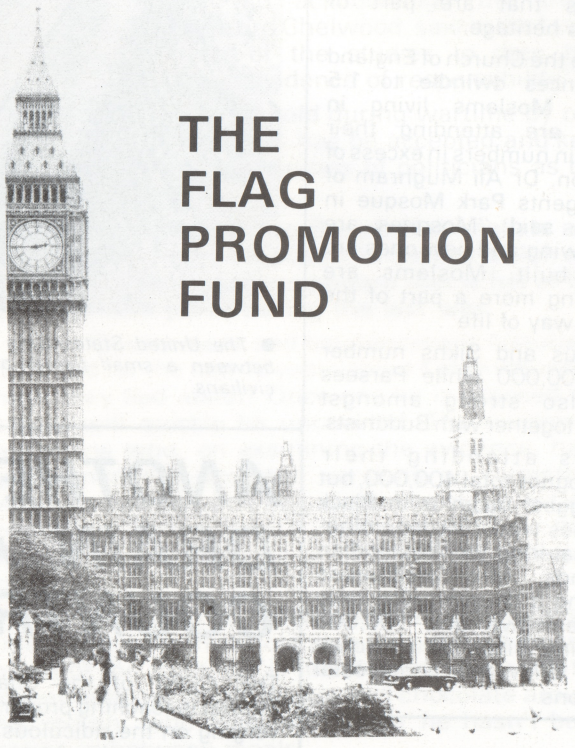
Local supporters in Hull ordered over 150 copies of The FLAG between them last month, an individual in Darlington ordered 100.

Croydon NF are hopeful to see the Party take off in nearby Bromley where they have been doing a lot of work, while Thames Valley regional organiser has met with Nationalists in Egham with the hope of reactivating the NF branch there.

Oxford, Cambridge, and Northampton have seen bulk orders of The FLAG for the first time, ordered by individuals who have had little to do with the National Front before.

From little acorns grow great oak trees. The National Front over the last 2 months has certainly seen those acorns scattered in most parts of Britain.

THE FLAG PROMOTION FUND



How many times have you heard Members of Parliament making outrageous statements about the National Front? They waffle on about the National Front yet none of them have probably ever read a National Front newspaper or policy statement. Well over the next two months we're going to put that right. The target for The Flag Promotion Fund is to send every MP a copy of The FLAG.

If you can help us by sending a donation to cover postage costs we will be very grateful.

Help us educate a few MPs! Send a donation to: The FLAG Promotion Fund, P.O.Box 230, Worthing, Sussex BN14 8EG.

FILMS FOR THE BRITISH!

"INTERNATIONAL CAPITALISM, with its primary concern to make money, was putting Britain's film heritage at stake".

So said Lord Graham of Edmonton in the House of Lords during a debate on the proposed closing of the Elstree Studios, the cornerstone of the British film industry.

The Government is ditching our film industry because it doesn't make a profit. The Tories, who are always the first to complain about the quality of what is broadcast on our screens, are prepared to let the British film industry die and condemn the British public to a viewing life of imported American and Australian drivel.

The British people want films and programmes geared to the British way of life, British culture and British heritage. Programmes shown on British television and films shown in British cinemas should be made in Britain using British actors and technicians.

Quality, not profit should be the guideline as to the success of the British Film Industry. Programmes and films that provide both education and entertainment and enhance the quality of life of the British people should be the goal of the industry.

The priority of a National Front government would be to ban the import of mindless, culturally alien and expensive viewing from America and invest that money in establishing a self-supporting, totally British industry whose products benefit the British people in both fields of entertainment and knowledge.

ALIEN RELIGIONS BOOMING IN BRITAIN.

RELIGION IN Britain is booming, but not those religions that are part of Britain's heritage.

While the Church of England attendances dwindle to 1.5 million, Moslems living in Britain are attending their church in numbers in excess of 2 million. Dr Ali Mughram of the Regents Park Mosque in London said "Mosques are overflowing and new ones are being built. Moslems are becoming more a part of the British way of life".

Hindus and Sikhs number over 700,000 while Parsees are also strong amongst Asians together with Buddhists.

Jews attending their Synagogues total 400,000, but the biggest boom is in Black churches with 160 denominations catering for West Indian demands, Afro-Carribbeans boasting a church-going ratio of one-in-five and 100,000 attending Black-led churches which follow low pentecostal traditions.

KEEP BRITAIN TIDY!

THE STREETS of many British towns are a disgrace. Litter strewn along the gutters and bags of rubbish just dumped on the pavements.

Britain's parks, woodlands, beaches and downs fare no better with litter louts leaving their mark on every spot they visit. The state of affairs with regard to the tidiness of our country is cause for concern, and the National Front should be at the fore in championing the cause for a tidy country.

Every NF member can play their part in the clean up campaign, from making sure they don't pollute the environment themselves, they can make sure people who do, clear up their mess they make. If the public know the National Front are on the look out for litter bugs, they'll think twice before discarding that sweet wrapper!

NATIONAL FRONT DEMANDS

ADEQUATE ARMED FORCES TO DEFEND OUR PEOPLE

JESSE JACKSON is going to be one of the most powerful political figures in America. He may not have won the presidential or vice presidential nomination for the Democrats - but he is quite likely to do so next time.

Whoever is the American President controls not only his own country's defences he also controls Britain's nuclear defences. These defences include American built Trident and Cruise missiles. Trident missiles are built in America and have to be serviced in Georgia. Cruise missiles cannot even be used without American permission and even more important no one is prepared to answer the question: "Would America over-ride Britain's wishes and fire the missiles without Britain's permission?"

● The United States Ship Vincennes: It couldn't tell the difference between a small fighter aircraft and a giant airbus crammed with civilians.

Over the last twenty years or so Britain has become steadily more and more dependent on Amercian weapons and has allowed them to be based on British soil. It is now an open secret that American military strategists have plans for a nuclear war limited to a European battleground leaving most of America and the USSR untouched.

This one-sided arrangement is now allowing America not only to influence Britain's foreign policies but to affect our domestic policies as well. Presidential candidate Michael Dukakis on 17th June said in an interview that he was prepared to intervene in the affairs of Northern Ireland.

This reliance on America is also increasing in the area of conventional weapons where Mrs Thatcher is running down our defences. Despite her regular assurances that Britain will maintain adequate naval and other defences.

Mr. George Younger, the Secretary of State for Defence, announced at last year's Conservative Party Conference that he intended to order four more Type-23 frigates, he has only now got around to ordering these - and he has reduced the number from four to three. But even if he had kept the full order it would not maintain a fleet of 50 naval vessles as promised by the Conservatives prior to the election.

Ironically, the last Government to commission enough destroyers and frigates to maintain this minimum force was the 1965-70 Labour Government which ordered 18 vessels.

In many other areas our defence forces are having to make do with older equipment as the multi-billion pound cost of the American Trident missiles bites further into the overall defence budget. Most defence experts have serious reservations about the use of Trident missiles as a nuclear deterrent. However there is now also doubt about its ability to perform if ever needed.

Trident is manufactured by the American Gereral Dynamics Company which is undergoing seven separate government investigations. America's record of reliability in missile production is hardly reassuring; the Maverick missile used by the USAF certainly lives up to its name - designed to identify and attack tanks on the ground it has proved ideal for destroying telephone poles, fence posts, large rocks, in fact almost anything except tanks which it usually manages to avoid.

American computer control systems are hardly better in other areas. The control system on the Divad automatic gun regularly fires 180° off target, ie directly away from the target - hardly reasuring for the reserve forces coming up in support.

The National Front believes in:

★ A British designed, British built, British maintained and British controlled nuclear deterrent sufficient only to deter our enemies.

★ A Navy capable of defending our people and our vital interests including the Falkland Islands.

★ That our Army and Air Force should be equipped with the most up-to-date equipment which should be supplied by British manufacturers and checked to ensure reliability.

★ That all members of our armed force should be ethnically British.

The National Front does not want armed forces capable of acting as the policeman of the world. We do not believe in gunboat diplomacy, however we do demand that Britain has armed forces capable of adequately defending our people.

● The Maverick Missile: Rarely gets anywhere near the tanks it's meant to destroy!

ANOTHER £ BILLION DOWN THE DRAIN AS THE RAPE OF OUR COUNTRYSIDE CONTINUES!

THE COST of the Channel Tunnel is reaching proportions verging on the ridiculous. The cost with regard to destruction of the British countryside and the quality of life of the British people is reaching proportions verging on the scandalous.

The Tory Government is now going to spend another £1,000,000,000 on creating a 180 mph train service from the tunnel to London. It will mean a new route carved through the Kent countryside producing a noise pollution corridor half a mile wide. It will cause appalling environmental damage.

The channel tunnel is totally unnecessary. Those who want to reach the continent quickly should fly. Those who want to take their cars can't be in that much of a hurry so they should go by ferry.

★ The channel tunnel will mean the introduction of rabies into this country.

★ The channel tunnel will mean easy access for terrorists into this country.

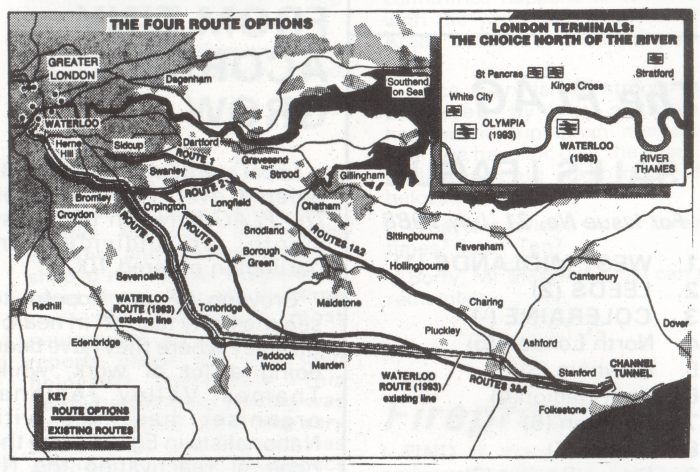
★ The channel tunnel will mean easy access for illegal immigrants into this country.

★ The channel tunnel will mean easy access for drug smugglers into our country.

★ The channel tunnel will mean the destruction of the Kent countryside.

★ The channel tunnel will mean that industry will be centred in the south-east of the country and the destruction of industry in other parts of Britain.

The channel tunnel will be the drain which British independence and the British way of life disappears down. It will also be the overflow which floods our country with all the impurities that the English channel has protected us from since the beginning of time.



VICTIM OF THE OCCUPYING ARMY

SIXTEEN YEAR-old Sara Willis is the latest victim of the presence of American occupying forces garrisoned on the British Isles. She was killed in a head-on collision by an American general driving on the wrong side of the road, York Crown Court heard on July 15th.

General Mario Cartagena of the UD Defence Department had arrived in Britain only hours before killing Sara, and had forgotten that in this province of the American Empire we drive of the left. He had just flown from a US Army base in Germany to take up a post at the American base at Menwith Hill, North Yorkshire.

The US General admitted killing the young British girl by reckless driving and was let off with a suspended jail sentence, a fine, and a UK driving ban which will of course not affect him. He did at least, however, have the decency to come back and face trial: as Judge Peter Baker, QC, pointed out. "If you had chosen to remain in America we could have done nothing about it".

This young Yorkshire girl would still be alive if Britain, as the NF has always demanded, ordered foreign military bases and garrisons off our soil. Like all the other Britons murdered, raped, beaten and robbed by US servicemen garrisoned in our land, she is a victim of what amounts to a foreign military occupation of our country.

Only a conquered province allows foreign troops to occupy its territory. We are a proud, free and independent nation, more than able to defend ourselves without foreign 'assistance'.

CELEBRATING THE 12th JULY

NEW LINKS FORGED IN ULSTER

Report by Steve Brady. Photographs by Dean O'Brien

OVER A thousand copies of The FLAG and Vanguard sold, local units revitalised, and new closer links forged with Ulster Loyalist organisations, as well as a thoroughly good time had by all. That was the outcome of the National Front's mainland activists' visit to Ulster for the 12th July celebrations.

The dozen-strong mainland delegation joined forces with a similar number of local activists for a street paper sale in the centre of Coleraine, Co. Londonderry, on the afternoon before the 12th. Over 150 FLAGs and dozens of copies of Vanguard were snapped up by local people in just over an hour. The local newspaper of the fiercely Loyalist town photographed and interviewed the visitors.

On the twelfth itself, the NF team gave our usual Belfast sales pitch a miss in order to bring our message to the Loyalists in the very frontline of Ulster's fight for survival, the historic siege city of Londonderry. Within sight, and shot, of the IRA's Creggan stronghold over 1,000 FLAGs were sold to eager crowds lining the route of the traditional Orange procession. The NF team sold out of everything they had brought with Loyalists still flocking to buy. The RUC and ARMY also showed an active interest in our literature.

The following day a visit to East Belfast for more leafletting and door-to-door literature distribution rounded off the trip. This was also the occasion for the very fruitful high-level talks with a major Loyalist organisation, which were conducted in an atmosphere of notable cordiality. An attitude reflected in the organisation's magazine, which has a circulation of 30,000, and much of whose latest issue consisted of reprints, with due acknowledgement, from NF publications, including the entire text of the NF's 'William's Work Goes On' leaflet.

Not that the trip was all hard work. Local NF activists took their mainland colleagues to see the splendour of the Giant's Causeway, and introduced them to the local Loyalist community in pubs and the 11th night bonfire celebrations. The local Coleraine folk were clearly delighted to receive support, instead of the usual betrayal, from 'across the water' and made their mainland visitors more than welcome.

The visit ended with the NF in Ulster greatly strengthened, new friends made both personally and politically, and the link between patriots on the mainland and in Ulster secured. As the lights of Larne faded on the horizon behind them, the NF team vowed to return next year if not sooner . . . with a lot more papers to sell.

Unlocking the Cupboard of Lies!

DURING WAR TIME the truth suffers. To maintain the morale of those involved, lies are told in the name of propaganda and the truth is swept under the carpet if thought to be unpaletable.

So it was with Katyn. In April 1943 a grave was discovered which contained the bodies of 14,500 Polish Officers. In June 1943, on the evidence collected by Owen O'Mally, British Ambassador to the Polish Government-in-Exile, the Foreign Office had little doubt who had killed the officers. Alexander Cadogan, Permanent Under-Secretary wrote: ''It is difficult to escape from the presumption of Soviet Guilt''.

Yet, in the national interest, the Germans were blamed. Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden announced the massacre and the culprits in the House of Commons. An orchestrated press campaign was launched to blame the Germans, and the Poles, who had accused the Russians of the massacre, were denounced as 'observing the interests of Hitler's propaganda'..

In 1952 a United States Congress Commission of Inquiry reported that without any doubt the massacre was perpetrated by the Russians in 1940 and not by the Germans in 1941 as claimed by the British Government.

Forty-eight years later the British Government are still refusing to acknowledge the truth. Conservative Peer, Lord Chelwood, said in the Lords last month ''None of the studies to date has produced conclusive evidence of responsibility''.

So a lie deliberately told during wartime by one generation of politicians has be accepted and kept alive by the next generations of politicians as the truth.

Katyn is significant to British Nationalists and the National Front because it is the key which will unlock the door of the cupboard that is full of lies of what took place during the last war.

If the Government and establishment historians have lied for the last 48 years about Katyn what else have they lied about? Once one lie is exposed the others will quickly be uncovered. The revisionist historians who, on examining the evidence, have questioned the accepted versions on numerous episodes will take courage as the lies of the last war crumble. Their stature will grow and their viewpoint, unacceptable at the moment, will gain credence.

Lord Chelwood, on behalf of the Government, still trying to bolster the lie of Katyn is a gift to all those in quest of the truth. He is like the little boy with the sweet wrapper in his pocket and chocolate around his mouth, who tells his mother he hasn't been eating in between meals.

The lies being told today are being told by people who have a vested interest in telling them. Unlike the little boy who can be forgiven for lying, the orchestrated manipulation being carried on today cannot be forgiven.

Those involved must be discredited forever.

THE HONG KONG EXODUS STARTS

48,000 HONG Kong residents are expected to leave Hong Kong this year, nearly twice as many as last year. This is just the first trickle of a potential flood tide which is building up as we approach the 1997 hand over of Hong Kong to China.

Even if emigration stayed constant it would mean nearly half a million people leaving. If the process continues to accelerate as it has been doing over the last two years then this could swell to two or three million.

Where are most of these going? . . . Canada, Australia, America and Britain. If our Government acts in its traditional way of abject surrender then Britain is faced with an influx which would make the Ugandan Asian invasion of the early '70s look like a drop in the ocean.

SET FREE

ROBERT MUGABE of Zimbabwe has ordered the release of 75 prisoners, including murderers in an amnesty.

All those pardoned are members of his ruling party's security forces and youth wing.

THOUGHT FOR THE MONTH

"Remember, O Lord, what is come upon us: consider and behold our reproach.

Our inheritance is turned to strangers, and our houses to aliens".

Lamentations, Chapter 5, verses 1 & 2.

NF Take on the Labour Party in Worthing

''DEMOCRACY DOESN'T stand a chance if our elected representatives give in to mob rule. Freedom of Speech doesn't stand a chance if our newspapers and TV stations give in to threats from unelected thugs.''

That was the opening text of a leaflet handed out by Worthing National Front at a demonstration outside the offices of the Worthing Herald newspaper.

Twelve local NF members held the picket, in pouring rain; on Saturday 23rd July, in response to the withdrawing by the paper of a National Front advertisement.

The advert had stated:

NATIONAL FRONT. For more information P.O.Box 230, Worthing, Sussex BN14 8EG.

The NF leaflet stated

"Worthing National Front placed this advertisement in the Worthing Herald for 8 weeks. After 6 weeks the paper cancelled it saying that they had had complaints about it. Who could possibly find fault with this simple advert. It's not offensive, it doesn't ask for money, it is not obscene, it doesn't intimidate, it just informs people who would like to find out about the National Front where to write to.

Bemused, Worthing NF wrote to the Editor asking why the advert was dropped, we received no reply. But all was revealed when left-wing magazine Searchlight bragged to its readers that the Labour Party in Worthing had told the Worthing Herald to drop the advert and that leaflets had been put out in Chatsworth Road encouraging people to complain to the paper about the NF advert.

It is a sad day for democracy and freedom of speech when a political party that has stood in Worthing in two out of the last three General Elections is refused the facility to advertise by a Worthing paper because of the actions of a tiny group of Labour Party thugs!.

If you believe in freedom of speech then please write to the Worthing Herald and voice your disapproval of their actions. You don't have to support the National Front just the right of the NF to be able to put forward our viewpoint. Democracy is the people deciding their own future. If the people are denied the right to hear all viewpoints then democracy becomes a farce. If a tiny mob of thugs can dictate what viewpoints the British people are allowed to hear then the freedom that millions of Britons died for in two world wars is lost for ever.

The demonstration was a great success with more than 400 leaflets distributed to interested passers by. Two local papers, including the Herald, took pictures of the picket and carried lengthy interviews with Worthing National Front chairman Tina Denny.

NAMING THE BUTCHER

WHO KILLED the most Communists? Hitler in Germany? Mussolini in Italy? Franco in Spain? Salazar in Portugal?

The answer, according to Anatoli Krassikov, vice-director of the official news Soviet news agency TASS, in a recent issue of the Soviet Communist weekly Ogonyok, is none of them.

The man who killed the most Reds was in fact Communist dictator Josef Stalin in the Soviet Union!

BANGLADESH TODAY BRITAIN TOMORROW

JAPAN TO GAIN FROM 1992

JAPAN WILL gain most from the EEC's introduction of the Single Market in 1992 according to a report by the authorative Henley Centre.

Japan's successful drive in world markets in the 1980's was based on investment in research and development, crucial to competitiveness and market share. 1992 will only increase Japan's success says the report.

How Strange

WELL, Parliament has yet again debated the restoration of capital punishment and - surprise, surprise - has yet again rejected it by a massive majority. M.P.'s claim that the general public is not in the least concerned since letters in their mail bags scarcely mention the subject at all

That could, of course, be due to the fact that the penny has dropped and the electors no longer expect M.P.s to in any way represent the will of the great majority. The fact that the great British electorate continues slavishly to re-elect the gaggle of grotty little men who so contemptuously dismiss the deeply-held convictions of the majority is a telling comment on the corrupt nature of British politics and the cowardice of the electorate.

Of course, M.P.s insist that they are not mere delegates for the electorate, which is true. They also claim that as men of honour - which is untrue - they are bound to follow the dictates of their consciences, if any.

What they omit to mention is the simple fact that men of honour who are aware that their own views were at variance with those of the majority they purport to represent, would feel obliged to abstain from voting on the issue. But abstain they do not. When the division bell rings, even the chronic absentees turn up in droves to vote down the populace.

This naked contempt for the people was, perhaps, best illustrated by the man who engineered the back door abolition of capital punishment by promoting a Bill in the House of Lords - that horribly hairy little Levantine Sidney Silverman. After the successful passage of his bill he crowed; "This is a triumph of an enlightened minority over an unenlightened majority".

That is the opinion of Parliament now. It is the opinion of Hurd and Hogg (perhaps the Hurd of Hoggs) at the Home Office.

Home Secretary, Douglas Hurd, who has presided over the greatest crime wave in recent British history, including a spate of vicious murders that have now plumbed new depths of horror, was contemptuously dismissive of the arguments for restitution. It is the insufferable arrogance - the posture of moral superiority - adopted by priggish tenth-raters like Hurd that is really hard to take. To think that people like that look down on people like us.

Strange though that Madam Thatcher, reputed to be an advocate of capital punishment, should, when the majority of Tories support it, so consistently appoint Home Secretaries from the minority who are opposed to it.

Methinks I smell a rat - indeed in Parliament it is hard to small anything else.

A Better Class of Nick

I'VE always believed government ministers to be tedious and humourless windbags. Imagine my surprise, therefore, when, in the wake of the riot at Lindholme Prison, I heard Mr Douglas Hogg, Home Office Minister with special responsibity for H.M. Nicks, declare that the riot was caused by "a hooligan element among the prisoners".

How I laughed! "By golly", I thought, "He's a droll swine, that Hogg".

However, it transpired that my first impression was correct because, believe it or not, Hogg was actually being serious.

It cannot be denied that there is a serious problem. There is a very poor class of people getting into prison these days. Sensitive old lags must find being caged up with uncouth yobboes exceedingly trying. Your average mass murderer, perhaps quietly contemplating the exquisite finesse with which he dismembered his girl friends, must find his sense of artistry affronted by such raucous riff-raff. The razor slashers, payroll bandits, footpads, and other aesthetes, really must wonder what the old place is coming to.

Something must be done. The Government should insist on a national membership scheme for prisons with persistent hooligans being ejected and barred from prison life. They should be refused entry into foreign prisons. There should be all seat prisons. All prisoners should carry identity cards to prevent hooligans sneaking into jail.

This is a crisis, Dammit, these yobs are giving felony a bad name!

Forgetful

I SEE that Ludwig Hoch (alias Robert Maxwell) the vastly wealthy and incredibly pear-shaped newspaper magnate, is up in arms yet again; this time over the failure of most newspapers to carry glowing reports about his very own holocaust conference. This morbid week-long shindig was held at Oxford (so it was very authoritative you see) and was attended by 1500 academics and other free-loading riff-raff, including a sizable contingent of the countless millions of death camp survivors.

Mr Maxwell alleges that this sin of omission by the better class of newspapers - the class that does not include any of Maxwell's own - could lead to yet another holocaust because of the public being allowed to forget the last one.

Well actually I am rather forgetful, but I do have this vague recollection that every time the Israelis get a bad press we are bombarded with yet another holocaust extravaganza. By a strange twist of fate, Mr Maxwell's very important conference happens to coincide with the wholesale butchery of Arabs by Israelis in the Stolen Land.

Since every Israeli atrocity is balanced by yet another holocaustic trip down memory lane, we have all, over the years, had veritable lashings of holocaustiana.

What is it, twice a week? Three times? Four? Ten?

Sorry, Mr Maxwell. I just can't remember.

Fireproof

I FIND it more than a little ominous that Western "intellectuals" should be so pathetically eager to accept, almost without question, the credentials of the new "liberal" man in the Kremlin, Mikhael Gorbachev.

Certainly I believe that Communism must eventually collapse beneath the sheer weight of its own rottenness and I would like to believe that there is indeed a new mood abroad in Russia, a new thirst for freedom. It is true that Stalinism is denounced on all sides - but then Stalin has been safely dead for a very long time. It is true that there is a genuine desire for more economic freedom - but then seventy years of Communism has brought Russia close to economic ruin, so that is no surprise.

Perhaps Russia is really changing. Perhaps.

You see I have this distinct recollection of another Russian "liberal" of the fairly distant past - one Nikita Kruschev. He denounced Stalin too. He too wanted more intellectual and economic freedom.

It was, however, this same fun-loving, outgoing, ebullient Nikita Kruschev who went to Vienna to meet U.S. President John Kennedy and, having sized him up and accounted him a weakling, forthwith mounted Russian nuclear missiles in Cuba; thereby bringing the world closer to nuclear war than ever before or since.

Kruschev is long gone; Gorbachev is the new hope. But does it mean anything at all except, perhaps, that the Russians have at long last grasped the importance of public relations experts - a breed of which Gorbachev is undoubtedly one.

It is surely essential that we all appreciate the simple fact that the Soviet Union is a multi-racial empire and that multi-racial societies disintegrate unless held together by tryanny. Assuming that his liberalising posture is genuine; how long will Gorbachev survive if the Soviet Empire begins to fall apart.

However, some Russians obviously believe in the new "liberalism" and are beginning to criticise Soviet leaders even before they are dead.

At the recent Communist Party Conference in the Kremlin, a certain Vladimir Melnikov, leader of the Komi Republic, made so bold as to denounce Soviet President Gromyko.

Since the Russians have given up shooting dissidents, Cromrade Melnikov may have considered himself fairly fireproof. For the Komi Republic is in Siberia and Melnikov may well have reasoned that since he came from Siberia, there wouldn't be much point in sending him there. Maybe in his wildest dreams, he was hoping that they might exile him to Moscow.

Evil Eye

LEONARDO DA Vinci was a great artist and he was also a scientific visionary with his sketches of futuristic machines that would not be built for centuries.

But surely our own Will Shakespeare was one up on him. Remember his immortal lines "All the world's a stage, and all the men and women merely players." - a perfect description of television 400 years before it was invented.

It is no coincidence that there should be a riot at Lindholme Prison shortly after it was featured in a television documentary. No doubt the lads thought there should be a sequel to the programme - well, I mean, all the best TV shows have sequels, don't they. So they burned the prison down while the warders retreated to a 'secure compound'.

So it is with all prison riots. The rioters take to the roof, where they can be seen by TV cameras, and display messages specially designed for TV.

Until the S.African authorities wisely banned TV cameras from Black townships, TV not only incited riots but stage-managed them.

If TV did not actually invent football hooliganism, it certainly promoted it. If the TV cameras are present to record football violence, there will surely be violence, even if it is merely simulated - that's showbiz i'n' it!

But then TV corrupts every sport it touches. Boxing, snooker, football, athletics: all have been irredeemably tainted by TV's flood of money - everything that was decent and sporting about them replaced by greed and cynicism, cheating and dishonesty. Soon there will only be Rollerball - specially staged for TV.

It used to be said that the camera cannot lie - in fact it not merely lies but consistently bears false witness. It distorts, taints, and trivialises everything. The shadow has replaced the substance of the world. If it's not on TV it hasn't happened at all.

Soon there will be satellite TV, cable TV, deregulated steam TV. God help us all. I'd mount a campaign against it if I wasn't too busy watching TV.

ENEMIES OF THE BRITISH MUSIC INDUSTRY

THE POPULAR music industry dominated as it is by the promoters of Black disco, soul and other African 'music' has witnessed a new development; the appearance of Black groups who are blatantly anti-White in both their music and attitude.

At a JJ Cool concert at the Wembley Arena in 1987 there were disturbances as white members of the audience were mugged. So worried were the authorities by these events that when another Black Rap band Run DMC applied to play at Wembley earlier this year, permission was refused.

Run DMC are going ahead with a British tour at a series of other venues, and it remains to be seen if the Wembley authorities will stand by their decision or bow to pressure from the Commission of Racial Equality and their minions.

Public Enemy are a Black band who have made anti-White statements, and called for a black uprising against White oppression at a recent concert. Despite a spate of apologist statements from the music press on the band's behalf, Public Enemy's live appearances make them seem more like ANC terrorists than a harmless pop group with black-uniformed members of the band waving guns around on stage.

Let's hope that the rumoured banning of this group of undesirables from Britain goes through, and that similar groups of Black extremists are prevented from appearing in Britain in future.

Perhaps now, the would-be multi-racialists in the music industry are finally learning the hard way the consequences of polluting our music culture with such anti-British alien elements.

KITTEN-EATING SOUTH KOREANS

by Steve Brady

THIS AUTUMN our TV screens will be filled with the Olympics. The host nation, South Korea, will try to show itself off to the world as an advanced, civilized country. What they won't show is the sickening savagery meted out daily by these Asiatics to the household pets they devour wholesale.

Just outside the Olympic Stadium in Seoul, the Korean capital, cats and dogs are brutally put to death daily because the Koreans believe that eating them gives them the strength and stamina of these animals. Dogs, cats and even small kittens are slowly hanged, strangled, clubbed or thrown alive into boiling water. Sometimes the water is kept deliberately a little below boiling point to intensify and prolong the hapless animals' agony. The cruelty is deliberate: the Koreans believe that dying in agony improves the flavour of the animals.

These sickening atrocities go on, not for the benefit of ignorant or starving peasants. The cats and dogs are luxury items, the expensive food of the richest elements in Korean Society. Many a Korean diplomat or Olympic official this summer will dab the last traces of the tortured kitten from his lips before going forth to simper, smirk and fawn upon visiting White officials who will imagine they are the guests of a civilised people.

Animal welfare activists have repeatedly raised the torture and eating of cats and dogs with the Korean Government to no avail. The media, bemused by the multi-million dollar Korean Olympic publicity machine, have ignored the sickening practices carried out in the shadow of the Olympic flame.

The National Front, Britain's foremost political party in the field of animal rights, demands action. British and other Western sportsmen and women should refuse to play in a country where such bestial practices go on unchecked. Our diplomats should refuse to dine with kitten-eating savages. The Koreans should be cast out from the fraternity of civilised nations and shown up for what they are - subhuman Asiatic barbarians.

BUTTERING UP THE BEAR!

THE COMMON Market is to sell another 120,000 tons of cut price butter to the Soviets, it was announced on July 18th. In 1986 and 1987, the Common Market sold over half a million tons of butter to the Russians, at 7p a pound. The price of the latest shipment is expected to be the same.

The butter of course comes from the notorious EEC butter mountain, now standing at around 400,000 tons. This and other food mountains are the result of British taxpayers' money being given to farmers to produce food far in excess of what they can sell, as part of the Common Agricultural Policy, a racket run for the benefit of the French, Irish and Italian farmers - and Communist dictators who can't feed their own people.

Just storing the Brussels butter mountain costs us £1 million a day. The Eurocrats have refused to sell the butter to British old folk and other poor Europeans, even for more money than the Soviets paid per pound, because that would 'upset the market'.

It is also reported that the EEC is about to sell 80,000 tons of cut-price beef to the Russians. The Common Market beef mountain is fast approaching a million tons of meat. This is the result of massive slaughter of dairy cattle on EEC orders to try and dry up the Common Market milk lake!

These vast mountains of excess food produced at taxpayers' expense, together with such petty regulations as VAT etc is all that the Common Market does for us. The whole organisation is a shambles and Britain should get out at the first possible opportunity.

GOVERNMENT MUST ACT OVER BOMBERS' BIBLE

More Evidence Against Gadaffi

A HEAVY machine-gun supplied to the IRA by Libya's Colonel Gaddafi and used to shoot down a British Army helicopter was found in mid-July, deep in the Irish Republic.

The gun was found, not by the Irish Police whose incompetence is a joke if their underhanded support for the IRA isn't, but by a man walking his dog near Borris-on-Ossory, Co. Laois.

The Russian-made DShK 38/46 machine-gun, which fires 575 rounds of 12.7mm ammunition a minute can shoot down a helicopter over a mile away, is one of several supplied by Gaddafi to the IRA. In June, according to the Provoes, two of these Libyan-supplied weapons were used to bring down a British Lynx helicopter in South Armagh, fortunately without loss of life.

Gaddafi has also given the IRA Belgian general-purpose machine-guns which can fire over a thousand rounds a minute and SAM-7 Soviet-made anti-aircraft missiles. It has also been officially revealed that Libyan-supplied arms were used in the recent spate of attacks on British Servicemen in Holland and West Germany, in which some of our lads have been murdered

Despite this continuing evidence that Libya's Islamic dictator is waging murderous war on the British people, the Government and the 'Iron Lady' have still done nothing to hit back. While Gaddafi kills our people, groups openly supporting him are still allowed to peddle Libyan propaganda, including the 'Bombers' Bible', Gaddafi's Green Book, on the streets of Britain. The Colonel continues to rake in his oil money, safe in the knowledge that the British Government, as usual, will do nothing against our nation's enemies.

NATIONAL HUMILIATION BEHIND THE RISE IN FOOTBALL VIOLENCE

by Ian Anderson

A COMPULSORY membership scheme so that you can't watch a game of football unless you have joined up - that is Margaret Thatcher's solution to football violence. It is a solution that will destroy many football clubs and which will have little, if any, effect on the levels of violence.

Even the experts on football violence agree that her heavy hand is not the way to tackle the problem. The Sir Norman Chester Centre for football research has surveyed more than fifty police forces and their spokesman, Mr John Williams, said there is "not overwhelming support" for the identity card plan. He added "My initial feeling from the returns we have received is that the support is very mixed".

● Football Fans: The Police should deal with any violence not the clubs

The report from the centre also confirmed that the introduction of such a scheme would cause many clubs severe cash problems. It also argues that the scheme is being bulldozed in as a result of recent trouble in West Germany, however it points out that such a membership scheme would have had no effect on this. In conclusion the report sums up its attitude to an identity card scheme: "It is difficult to see its relevance".

This is perhaps the real point. The National Front has always made clear its support for law and order but we believe that the responsibility for enforcing the law lies with the police. Bashing the football clubs is no part of any sane law and order policy. As we have seen recently outbreaks of violence are now occuring all over the country - presumably Thatcher's solution will be for small rural towns to have an identity card scheme.

Enforcement of the law is a job for the police; respect for the law depends on the government acting as a unifying force for the nation and providing direction for the nation. If anything, the Government itself is causing this violence with its 'grab what you can' attitude to everything, together with the regular bouts of national humiliation engendered by the them, our schools and the media.

The restoration of pride in our nation is a necessary prerequisite to bringing down all levels of crime. Mrs Thatcher's solution of bashing the football clubs is irrelevant, unworkable and just downright bloody-minded.

IN THE CLUTCHES OF BIG BUSINESS

THE FLAG commented adversely in our April issue about the sponsorship by the high street retailer Halfords of the French based Z-Peugeot-Halfords cycling team. Now Halfords have come under fire from the cyclists themselves.

British cyclists have complained that it is unfair that Halfords should have come to an agreement with a powerful continental team which will only race in Britain when the events are given guaranteed television coverage.

The problems caused by sponsorship in sport are magnified in this case when it is realised that Mr. Alan Rushton, who is chairman of the Professional Cycling Association is also managing director of Sport for television which arranges sponsorship deals.

● Peugeot: Only interested in cycling events when they are televised.

The National Front is not against sponsorship in sport but we are against sponsors ending up in control of sport and determining its future. This must remain in the hands of the participants and active fans and must not fall into the hands of big business.

★ National Front branches arranging pickets of Halfords stores in their local high street should contact Head Office for suitable leaflets.

SAY NO TO THE SUPER LEAGUE

THE IDEA of a super league in football should be opposed by everyone who truly loves the game of football. The latest proposal was one of the worst we have ever seen and with no relegation from this 'super league' and no election of clubs to it, it would rate as one of the most boring competitions going!

Thankfully this proposal has now been shot down, but there is every chance that a similar, if modified, proposal will be forthcoming before too long. So just who would gain from this 'super league' - the owners of the super league clubs perhaps, but certainly not their fans. Some big advertisers would gain as they would only have to arrange advertsing at a few clubs to ensure television coverage.

All the clubs excluded from the super league would lose out not only because of the loss of cash but also because of the pressure of television, advertisers etc. would encourage our youngsters to support the few big teams rather than their smaller local clubs. With many smaller clubs then forced into bankruptcy it would also reduce the opportunities for the hundreds of younger players to get into professional football.

All credit must go to those professional footballers, including for those playing for the 'Big Ten' who have expressed their opposition to the super league.

The FLAG* has regularly criticised the current football league and we think it has many failings, but the idea of a Super League is wrong, dangerous and should be scrapped now!

SWAN HORROR WARNING TO ANGLERS

THE VAST majority of anglers are a credit to their pastime, but a tiny minority are giving a bad name to those who enjoy the pleasures of Britain's waterways.

In a damning pamphlet published this month by the Swan Rescue Service, called So You Want to Go Fishing there are numerous photographs of swans dying from disgarded tackle thrown away on banks by coarse fishermen.

There is also a photograph of a popular coarse fishing lake, Rollesby Broad in Norfolk, which is so full of rubbish on the bank that in one and a half hours three carrier bags full of disguarded tackle, nylon, lead weights and hooks were collected.

The Swan Rescue Service say that any swan which stayed at Rollesby for any length of time would die from ingesting hooks or from lead poisoning.

There are horrible pictures of swans and other birds dying slowly and you are shown X-ray examinations of hooks in the throat and gizzard.

The booklet is an eye-opener to all, and anglers everywhere should be aware of what damage a carelessly disgarded hook or line can do.

So You Want to Go Fishing: The Swan Rescue Service, Shotesham St Mary, Norwich, Norfolk. £3.50.
